

Notice of Rights on the Revocation of Deferred Prosecution

1. You have received a revocation of a decision of deferred prosecution. The prosecutor has found you had violated the order for the deferred prosecution and has revoked the original decision of deferred prosecution.
2. You may file a petition for a reconsideration, specifying the reasons, to the case prosecutor for submitting to the chief prosecutor of the supervising prosecutors office, within ten days after receiving the revocation of deferred prosecution.
3. You may visit the Prosecutors Office's website for more information:
